Too much praise cannot be bestowed opon Miss Hardin. Two years ago this player, not long from the playing fields Vassar, where they make regular of Vassar, where they make regular athletic, American women, went through to the semi-final round of the metropolitan championship at Greenwich. In this year's metropolitan championship she tied for the medal with Mrs. H. Arnold Jackson. The fact that she faded out early in the match play in that event was rather disconcerting to those who had been pluming themselves on the fact that they had a new star to fight for the New York section. But by her work yesterday Miss Hardin showed that, despite the slings of fortune, she intends to keep Miss Marion Hollins and all the other good ones in this neck of the woods constantly on the alert.

All Records Broken for Saturday's Carnival, Says McHugh.

When entries for the high, elementary and junior high school track and field championships, which are to be held for THE NEW YORK HERALD'S medals and cups on Saturday, closed yesterday, John J. McHugh announced that all records had been broken and that he was swamped with names of competitors. He declared that the lists for the triple carnival to be staged at the Brooklyu Athletic Field had passed the 3,000 name mark, and that when all the entries are tabulated the number may be closer to 4,000 than 3,000.

"No doubt the fact that THE NEW YORK HERALD has interested itself in these games and has presented splendid and junior high school track and field periods of her match. Whenever the occasion demanded she indicated quite clearly that she had plenty of speed in reserve and that her powerful drives and all around superior forcing attacks were too much for her opponent. Giving Miss Winn all due credit for her persistent court covering and her frequent skillful maneuvering in the rallies, there is no question that Miss Bancroft deserved her $-3, 7-5 victory. Miss Bancroft seemed intent upon playing just as hard as she had to, no harder, and considering the heat she was wise in so doing.

If form is to hold true throughout the tournament it will be Miss Bancroft versus Miss Martha Bayand of Short Hills in one semi-final, and probably Miss Margaret Grove and Miss Marie Wagner in the other. In the latter had of the draw, however, the favorites do not stand out conspicuously over the rest, for that section also includes Miss Clare Cassel, twelfth in national rank; Miss Ceres Baker, Mrs. Benjamin F. Briggs and Mrs. Edward V. Lynch, all of whom played splendid tennis yesterday. Victories for Miss Cassell and Miss Wagner in the second round to-day will bring the finalists in the recent Motniciair tournament together again.

Mrs. William Endicott of Boston and Mrs. Albert Humphries of New York were the only players to be carried into extra sets to win. In the first set of her match with Miss Bessie Holden Mrs. Endicott was outsteadled in a base line duel, but she kept getting better pace and better direction into her drives thereafter and took the second and third sets by a wide margin. Mrs. Humphries, after playing at top speed in the first division of her tussle with Mrs. Theodore Sohst, was forced to let down in the second, and she dropped that division of play at 6—1. She railled strongly, however, in the third set and, although extended to the end, won through the more decisive character of her strokes.
